Dear Comrades,

SYNDICATE BANK CENTENARY
A Century of Service, Trust, and Human Touch

Today marks 100 glorious years since the founding of our beloved Syndicate Bank, established on 20th October 1925 by the three illustrious visionaries - Dr. T.M.A. Pai, Shri Upendra Ananth Pai, and Shri V.S. Kudva.

What began as a small institution in the coastal town of Udupi-Manipal, with a mission to serve the common man, grew into one of India's most trusted and people-oriented banks. Syndicate Bank stood for service with a heart - pioneering innovations such as the Pigmy Deposit Scheme, rural and agricultural lending, support to artisans and small traders, and women's empowerment. It embodied the very spirit of inclusive banking long before the term became policy.

Even though the name "Syndicate Bank" merged into Canara Bank in 2020, its values, traditions, and spirit continue to live on - in our work culture, in our shared memories, and in every heart that once beat for the "Faithful & Friendly" emblem and the tagline of "Where Service is a Way of Life".

To each of us, Syndicate Bank was not merely a workplace; it was our nurturing mother, alma mater, and our identity. It transformed us from individuals into professionals, and from employees into lifelong comrades bound by shared ideals of integrity, compassion, and service.

As we celebrate this Centenary Year of Syndicate Bank, we bow our heads in reverence to the founders, salute the generations of employees who built the institution brick by brick, and recall with pride how our Bank became a household name synonymous with trust.

We, in Canara Bank Syndicate Pensioners & Retirees Association, take this moment to reaffirm our resolve to preserve and perpetuate the Syndicate Bank legacy - through our unity, our service to fellow pensioners and retirees, and our commitment to the values instilled in us by our great institution.

The Syndicate Bank spirit lives on, timeless and unbroken - guiding us through every challenge, inspiring every action, and reminding us that while names may change, heritage never fades.
