Founders Day of SYNDICATE BANK

The Great Institution to remember For Ever

Today we commemorate the foundation of our beloved institution Syndicate Bank. It was on this day in 1925 i.e. 20th Oct the visionaries viz Dr TMA Pai, Shri Upendra Ananth Pai and Shri V S Kudva established the bank. Undoubtedly it was one of the temples of modern India, deeply committed to the Service of and respected by The Common Man. It was the institution which conceptualised small savings collection viz pigmy, lending to agriculture and priority sectors, women empowerment etc. The bank brought about socio-economic change among the rural masses and went on to become a leading public sector bank in India with innovative ideas and inspiring leadership of the founders. It has given life and livelihood to millions of people, be it by direct employment or by financial assistance during its long existence of 95 years. The founder Dr. TMA Pai was aptly called as Brahma, the creator, of Modern day Manipal for transforming a sleepy village of Manipal into a global and throbbing education and technology hub.

Though the bank got amalgamated into and now functions as Canara Bank, we continue to adore Syndicate Bank as the mother. The legacy will stay alive. Millions of its erstwhile subjects and beneficiaries will commemorate and ensure continuation of the same by the future generations. We bow in reverence and salute the founding fathers of the bank.
